

Speakers
Managers/Administrators Spring Forum
April 13, 2018 | Columbia Conference Center
l.masc.sc/SCmgrmtg | @muniassnc

Meghan Walker, Executive Director, South Carolina State Ethics Commission

Meghan Walker became executive director of the South Carolina State Ethics Commission in February of 2018. She has worked for the S.C. Attorney General's Office and as an assistant solicitor with the Fifth Judicial Circuit (Richland and Kershaw Counties). Walker is a member of the South Carolina Bar, South Carolina Black Lawyers Association and the Columbia Chapter of The Links, Inc. She double majored in marketing and management at the University of South Carolina before graduating from the University of South Carolina School of Law in 2009.

Van Henson, Training and Education Supervisor, S.C. Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation — Office of OSHA Voluntary Programs

Van Henson is the training and education supervisor with the South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation — Office of OSHA Voluntary Programs. Formerly a compliance officer with OSHA, Henson, who has been with OSHA since 1994, also has work experience in the residential construction field, textile, metal foundry and automotive body shops. He was also a member of the OSHA World Trade Center Emergency Response Team, where he helped to identify and track safety and health hazards at ground zero during the recovery and cleanup effort after the terrorist attacks of 9/11.

Henson has a bachelor's degree in business administration from Newberry College.