EVERY VOTE COUNTS.

If a Voter Forgets Their Photo ID

- If a voter has a Photo ID but forgets to bring it to the polls on Election Day, they have two options:
 - Retrieve their Photo ID and return to vote
 - Vote a provisional ballot that will NOT count UNLESS they show their photo ID to the county election commission by the time of the provisional ballot hearing.

If a Voter Does Not Have a Photo ID

- If a voter does not have a photo ID due to some obstacle, they may vote a provisional ballot after:
 - Showing their paper voter registration card without a photo (old card), and
 - Signing an affidavit attesting to their identity and impediment

Who Determines Reasonableness?

- Voter may claim any obstacle he finds reasonable, as long as it is true.
- Only the voter determines what is reasonable.
- Poll Managers and other election officials do not determine the reasonableness of the claimed impediment.

Reasonable Impediment

- Ballot will count unless county election commission has grounds to believe affidavit is false
- Someone would have to provide proof that either:
 - Voter lied about his identity, or
 - Voter lied about having a reasonable impediment

Name Not on VR List

- PMs must have a way to contact county VR office
- PM calls county VR office and provides voter name from ID
- VR office checks voter's eligibility
- If eligible, voter's name is written in at end of paper VR list & allowed to vote
- Use separate lists if using laptop
- If unable to contact county VR office, must allow voter to vote provisional ballot

Election Night

- Public may witness the closing of the polls and counting of votes
- Precinct totals will be posted at polling place
- ABS totals will be added by CEC and forwarded to tally location
- All results released on election night are unofficial

- MEC complete canvass of results
- Sign canvass sheets certifying results
- Results then become OFFICIAL

Determining Mandatory Recounts

- Difference between winning candidate and losing candidate is 1 % or less
- In a multiple seats to fill election, difference between the lowest of the winners and highest of the losers is 1% or less
- Recounts apply to offices, not elections
- Recount can be waived by losing candidate in writing

Determining Majority/Runoffs 1

- Applies to primaries, some municipal elections
- One seat to fill - A majority if votes for candidate are greater than:
 $(\text{Total Votes Cast for Office}) \div 2$
- If no candidate has majority, runoff between two candidates remaining with most votes
- If dividend is fraction, don't round up or down
- No write-ins in runoffs

Determining Majority/Runoffs 2

- Multiple Seats to Fill - Candidate has a majority if votes for candidate are greater than:
 $(\text{Votes Cast}) \div (\text{Seats to Fill}) \div 2$

Determining Multiple Seat Majority

- Example: 5 candidates for 3 seats on town council
 - Candidate A 60 votes
 - Candidate B 55 votes
 - Candidate C 45 votes
 - Candidate D 30 votes
 - Candidate E 20 votes
- Divide total votes cast (210)/number of seats to fill (3), divide by 2
- $210 \div 3 = 70$, then $70 \div 2 = 35$
- Any number in excess of 35 is a majority. Candidates A, B, and C all have majorities and win the three seats on council.
- Not enough candidates with majority
- More than enough candidates with majority
