To be a good leader you need a roadmap and a compass. There are four L's to leadership that will help us along the way: Listen, Learn, Lead and Love. Good leaders listen. Once they listen and put thought into what they are hearing they learn as much as they can about what they are doing. Once they have what they need they make the decisions towards the direction they desire. Finally, they love. Leaders love, and they love large. It has been said that you can love without leading, but you cannot lead without loving.
